engineered sliding systems

Until now, there has never been an alternative solution for covering expensive equipment on specialized utility trailers.

"the LOOK" engineered sliding system is a moving load covering solution which allows side, rear and overhead accessibility while providing protection and security at an affordable cost.

Designed for the long haul, durable light weight aluminum modular frames slide in both directions with metal wheels on a combination stainless steel and aluminum track.

"the LOOK" modular design allows individual vinyl tarpaulin panels to slide in or out for easy installation or replacement.

Built to any height or length, "the LOOK" engineered sliding system is the perfect alternative to an enclosed trailer when side access is a must.

the LOOK® engineered sliding system can be designed to suit any style of flatbed utility trailer. Simply have your local trailer company contact us and we will provide the necessary specifications to convert your new or existing trailer to the Best Built, Best Value Load Covering System ever offered.
